Judge Hancock has been holding the fall term of the Circuit Court of Sussex county this week. There were no criminal cases on the docke'. Among the civil cases were two suits for damages against individuis—one against the owner of a cottongin for an accident to a colored mun in his employment, resulting in the loss of a hand, and the other against a citizen named Falson for breaking the arm of an employé. The former suit broke down and failed: the latter was on trial at last accounts.

The commissioners of election met in the clerk's office this morning and can vassed the returns of Tuesday's vote in this city. The result of the canvass tallied with the figures already published in the Dispatch. Mr. Gaines received a majority of 411 over Misjor Page. As light as the vote was, the Democrats carried four out of the six wards of the city, and were but little behind in the Fifth Ward.

The fair of the Colored Industrial Asso The fair of the Colored Industrial Association opened hereto-day, with about 2,000 persons present, including many whites The exhibition of stock, agricultural and mechanical implements, vecetables, handiwork, &c., is very creditable. Governor Lee was expected to deliver the opening address, but a telegram received from him stated that he was detained in Richmond on official business, and could not come over. His absence caused much regret.

An address was delivered by Professor John M. Laugston, of the Normal College, His subject was "The Negro's Future," which he discussed ably and elaborately. In the course of his remarks he passed a high compliment on Governor Lee.

Many people were present from Richmond, from which city, also, there were a number of exhibits.

BLLMONT'S GIFT TO NEWPORT. A Beautiful Chapet in the Island

Comotory.

A Newport (R. L.) special sava: Workmen are busily engaged in creeting a handsome mortuary chapel in the Island cometry for Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, of New York, who intend, when it is completed, to present it to the cemetery trusters for any Christian mortuary services. It is given in memory of a deceased daughter, who is buried here, and whose grave is annually strewn with flowers on the anniversary of her birth. The editice is being built in the most thorough manner, with strict regard to permanence and durability. No wood is being used in any part of the work, with the exception of the roof, domes, and staffheds holding windowsashes. The exterior is built of a rich, warm, reddish-brown sandstone from the Carliste quarries, in Springfield, Mass. The stone is laid up rock-faced and random-squared. The porch sod beil-stage tower will be of stone inside and out. It is intended to have some delicately- and at the same time boldly-carved details on the caps of columns and plets, the buttresses of porch-ends of lakel-mouldings, mullions, &c., where the English ivy and other well-known leafage will turnish the motifs of design. All the carriag will be executed in place, and by this arrangement much better effects of shade and light, deheave or boldness, as may be required, will be obtained than by carving the stone before it is placed in portion.

The prefty-shaped roof is covered with gellow plue and dark-blue slate, the crusies, resting on stone coroles, being of the same kind of wood. Copper is used for all exterior work, including gutters, finisis, &c. All the floors are formed of brick arches agrung between iron beams and levelled up with Neufebâtel asphalt and Portland cement. The steps leading in the chancel will be of rubbed bluestone. The interior walls are to be wainscoted with brick, dark-brown enamelled, duli red, and peerlies moulded bricks from l'hiladeiphia being used. The walls are bollow, and above the wainscot will be platered directly on the brick and finished with a rough surface, known as "carpet-ficated," and will be delicately colored. The a emorial windows will be filled with rich glass, and will be very elaborate. The gift will add greatly to God's Aore, and will be of great service to the public. It is expected that it will be ready for use early in the apring, when it will be dedicated by a memorial service in memory of the deceased daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Belmont. It is a gift which any city might be proud of.

CONTINENTAL MONEY.

A Washington H.-n Fold That Mis Lot of Notes is Worthload.

[Washington Fost.]

The largest lot of Continental currency presented to the United States Treasury within the memory of present officials was presented for redemption yesterday by Mr. Elifott Seawell, of No. 1805 O street, Northwest. Frequently small sums of these Continental notes are presented, but Mr. Seawell's collection amounts to $3,370.

They consist of $50, $55, $60, $77, and $50 BEST COMPOUND WASHING AND CLEANING WASHING AND CLEANING

(1944-codlylp) west. Frequently small sums of these Continental notes are presented, but Mr. Seawell's collection amounts to $3,370. They consist of $50, $55, $60, $71, and $80 notes, issued by the Treasurer of the United States under acts passed by the Continental Congress, in Philidelphia, in the years 1778 and 1779. The notes are square-shaped, and in size hardly as latge as a ten-cent shinplaster. They are simple in device, having very little engraving, and are consequently easy to counterfelt, as was discovered shortly after they were issued; for the Continental Congress itself passed an act which recognized the fact that many counterfelts were in the market. None of these notes are paid now, the reason assigned by the United States Treasurer for non-payment being that they cannot be proved to be genuine, and that the long lapse of time supposes the claims to be not genuine. As Comptroller Durham puts it now, quoting from a former opinion of Attorney-tieneral Black, "The hand of time has written 'Satisfaction' on its face so legibly that no man can disregard it."

Treasurer Jordan referred the notes and the demand for navment to Controller Dur-AUCTION SALES-This Day. By E. B. Cook, Auctioneer, 24 Ninth street. GENTEEL FURNITURE, BUGGY, time has written "Satisfaction" on he has esso legibly that no man can disregard it."

Treasurer Jordan referred the notes and the demand for payment to Controller Durham for his decision upon the liability of the United States Government in respect of these notes. The Controller's decision in this instance is a repetition of his opinion in every similar case which has recently come before him. The seal printed on these Confinental notes was surrounded with the motto: "Deus Regnat; Exuitet Terra." That part of "Terra" represented by the present holders of Continental currency exults no more, for it has found that the ruiling power has changed. It is no longer "Deus Regnat," but the Government of the United States, which refuses to pay a cent for a basketful of Continental notes.

THE PAMOUS HOT SPRINGS OF VIRGINIA AT AUCTION.

rusry, 1885, and of a decree of the Chancery court of the city of Richmond, in the suit of "Hail's administrator se, Price and als.," entered the 28d of April, 1885, we will sell at 1 o'clock P. M. on FRIDAY, November 12, 1886, at the front door of the auctioneer, (No. 4 north Eleventh street, Richmond, Va.,) by public acction, the noted HOT SPRINGS OF VIRGINIA, situated in Eath county, Va., and embracing, besides the valuable Mineral Springs about 1.292 ACRES OF LAND—much of which is very valuable for grasing and agricultural purposes.

The curative properties of the waters of the Hot Springs are equal, if not superior, to those of the famous Hot Springs of Arkansas, and their reputation as extensive.

The MOTEL and CUTTAGES are in good condition, with a capacity to accommodate FOUR HUNDRED GUESTS, and the FARM

HULLDINGS are good and of sufficient quantity.

This property is situated in the celebrated warm-springs Vailey, unrivalled for the beauty of its scenery and for healthfulness, and embraces innumerable springs of tunite variety of temperature and medicinal properties. They are the only hot springs east of the Mississippi river, and must necessarily be the great resort of all persons living in the Atlantic States who seek permanent relief from rheumatism, gout, and sorofuls.

It is no picture of fancy to say that its unutilized earth-heated mineral waters are indeed, a stream of gold going in large part to waste down this beautiful vailey, all of which can and will be changed into what nature intended it should be a fountain of health to the sufferer and of wealth to the wares who shall have the foresight and which can and will be changed into what nature intended it should be—a fountain of health to the sufferer and of wealth to the owner who shall have the foresight and courage to properly improve the property, converting it into a sanitarium that would have its thousands of visitors every day in converting it into a sanitarium that would have its thousands of visitors every day in the year.

These Sprims are located on the route of the proposed warm-Springs Valley rallroad, which will, it is confidently believed, be constructed in the near future. This property is too well and favorably known to require a fuller description, but the auctioneer will take pleasure in giving any information that may be desired.

Terms: Cash sufficient to pay the amount due and unpaid at the time of sale by the respondents. Benjamin Holladav and others, at whose risk and cost the sale is made; and the residue at one, two, and three years, in unequal instalments, with interest thereon, payable semi-annually; the purchaser to give bonds and security for the deferred payments, and the Court to retain the title until full payment is made. A statement of the exact amount that will be required to be paid in cash will be furnished at the time of sale.
